ANTIOCH FAIR OFFICIALS PLAN 1934 EXHIBITION

Exhibits Will Be Full and Nearly Standard,
Minto Says

KING BOOKING ENTERTAINMENT

Preparations for the greatest Antioch Country Fair to be held here October 4, 5 and 6, are being completed by officials of the Fair Association who, in spite of the depression, drought and crop failures, are looking forward optimistically to a successful exhibition in point of attendance, and quality and number of exhibits.

Full exhibits in every class call for an outlay of over $1,900 to be paid to exhibitors in premiums.

The Antioch Country Fair enjoys the unique distinction of never having lost money during the ten years of its existence, according to C. L. Kuttli, former secretary and one of the founders of the Association.

Kuttli First President

Kuttli, instructor of vocational agriculture at the Antioch high school, was first president, having been elected in 1924 to head a group of men interested in the development of the poultry industry, the association taking the name, Antioch-Lake Villa Poultry Association. Dr. G. W. Jensen was chosen secretary.

The following year a two weeks' poultry school was held at the Antioch high school and at the close of the school the first poultry show was held with some 400 entries. This show was the beginning of the Antioch Country Fair. For six years the poultry show was held and the entries trebled during the period.

Named for State Aid

For the past four years the Association has been receiving state aid, as a result of the efforts of President D. H. Minto and Mr. Kuttli, then secretary, who appeared before the Lake county board of supervisors with the request that Antioch Fair Association be designated to receive state aid. The request was granted and applications for state aid have been made annually since that time and have been received each year.

The fair, which has always been held at the Antioch high school, has grown to include a dozen departments, each of which is always well filled with quality exhibits. The fair has been more or less the outgrowth of activities centered about the school.

The present officers of the Association are D. H. Minto, president; Harrie Tillotson, vice president; Emmet King, secretary; Bert Edwards, treasurer; and Charles Paddock, director.

The annual exhibitions are not held for profit, but for the sole purpose of exploiting Lake county's wonderful natural resources, productiveness, and achievements in the lines represented. Officials and other members of the Association give freely of their time and talents to the end that the exhibitions may be successful each year and continue to be a potent factor in community development. They deserve and will receive for the worthy enterprise full co-operation for all progressive citizens.

Book Entertainment

Free entertainment is always an enjoyable feature of the Antioch Country Fair, and right now Secretary Emmet King is making arrangements to include some real entertainment numbers of this year's program. Very probably the services of some of the WLS artists will again be seen at the fair this year, King stated. A contract with the artists' bureau of this station also carried the advantage of having the fair advertised over the air from WLS, according to the secretary.

Department superintendents are making preparations to take care of the large number of exhibits expected in each class. The various classes of exhibits, with entry dates follows:

Class A—Poultry and Pigeons; $697.50 in premiums. Bert Edwards, superintendent, Antioch. Entries close Sept. 27.

Class B—Dairy Cattle; $212.00 in premiums. Kenneth Denman, superintendent, Antioch.

VICTIM OF ENRAGED BULL LOSES LIFE

Peter Zibilus, 58, of Lake Villa, an employe on the farm of Peter Wesner, died late Saturday at the Lake County general hospital of injuries inflicted by an enraged bull.

The coroner's jury, according to Coroner J. L. Taylor, held that the death was accidental.

Zibilus was herding cattle on a strip of pasture near the Wesner farm when the bull suddenly turned on him. He was borne to the ground by the animal and before employes could drive the enraged bull away, Zibilus' ribs were crushed and he was hurt internally.

Navy Wants Men; Offers Schooling To Young Men

Today, the Recruiting Service of the United States Navy announced that the recruiting of eligible young men has opened on a large scale in order to bring the personnel of the Fleet to the authorized strength of 82,500 by January 1, 1935.

The United States Navy is a modern phase of growth of a magnificent transforming idea. Instead of grinding up the lives of the sailors as grist in the great mill of naval activity, the Navy is preparing a better efficiency by making a man's enlistment term a preparatory school for life. He learns team-play and the knack of getting along with his fellows as he can learn it nowhere else. He develops habits of efficiency and accuracy. If he does not graduate a better and more capable man, the fault is his own.

Young men of high moral character with a high school education and between the ages of seventeen and twenty-five will be accepted for enlistment. Further information may be obtained by applying in person or writing the Navy Recruiting Station, Room 826, New Post Office Building, Van Buren and Canal Streets, Chicago, Ill.

Bandits Loot Night Owl Tavern

Tie Victims With Wire;
Flee With Cash and Car

Forcing four employes and a customer into a back room where they were tied up with wire, five bandits early Wednesday looted the cash register and five slot machines at Freddie May's Night Owl tavern, corner of Routes 59 and 173 at the west limits of Antioch, stole the customer's new Nash sedan and fled south.

After sticking up the two attendants in the place, Victor Bown and Dick Folbrich, who were forced at the point of guns into the kitchen where they were securely tied, the bandits brought in the owner of the Nash car. Next came Harry Petske, porter, who received like treatment at the hands of the robbers. A few moments later, Wm. Faust, day attendant, entered the place to find a gun placed none too gently against his ribs. Faust was deposited with the others in the back room while the bandits completed their work, one of whom drew himself a glass of beer, and then shouting a warning to the victims to remain quiet, the holdup crew departed.

Faust managed to free himself in a few moments and he released the others.

The stolen car belonged to a man from Iowa. He was driving the Nash and was towing a LaFayette car. He had stopped at the tavern early yesterday because of the dense fog encountered here and was sleeping in the car when aroused by the bandits.

Politics

Eight thousand Democrats assembled at the picnic held at Sportsmen's Park Sunday heard Michael L. Igoe lay G. O. P. policies and condemn criticism of the N. R. A. Igoe, who ran for governor two years ago, contrasted the situation two years ago with that of today. At the beginning of the present administration the country "was on the verge of absolute destruction and it was necessary to close banks. Today all savings deposits are guaranteed up to $5,000," Igoe said. "Rugged individuals who controlled the government for 12 years made the ragged individuals of two years ago." Igoe defended the state administration by declaring that Gov. Horner pledged "to reduce taxes and actually did reduce them."

All county Democratic candidates were present and were introduced by Einar Sorenson of Channel Lake, co-chairman of the picnic committee, with Sergeant Arthur Stanton, who was given credit for the record-breaking success of the outing by the platform speakers at which time an accurate check disclosed 3,500 automobiles parked on the grounds in addition to several buses and trucks from Waukegan and North Chicago.

Charging excessive and uncontrolled spending, Ralph E. Church, Evanston, candidate for congress from the tenth congressional district, rapped the Democratic national administration in an address Sunday at the annual rally of the First Ward Republican club held at Small's park. Church and William J. Stratton, Republican candidate for state treasurer were the principals at the big ward rally that drew over 3,000 people throughout the day.

Church charged that the Democratic administration passed staggering appropriations over which congress exercised no control. In a portion of his address he said:

"The actions of Congress in passing blanket appropriation bills led to staggering appropriations, over the spending of which Congress exercised no control."

$13,500 Per Minute

"Every time the clock ticked off a minute during the 12 months ending June 30, 1934, the Federal government spent $13,500."

"By spending $13,500 while it collected only $5,900, the Federal Treasury netted a loss of $7,600 per minute."

THE TOWN BULLY

Who pays your wages or salary? Business and industry.

Who pays the politicians and office holders? Business and industry.

Who pays the doles now handed out by government? Business and industry.

Who improves property that pays taxes? Business and industry.

Where does permanent employment for the masses come from? Business and industry.

Who is injured by government going into business? Business and industry.

Who suffers most from such a program? Millions of wage earners and investors.

Who will replace the taxes destroyed by tax-exempt government business competition with private citizens? Higher taxes on remaining private property.

What is the difference between the town bully and the politician who uses the force of government to take what he wants from helpless private citizens? None.

The people make the government.

The people make the politicians.

Industry and business create incomes and property which politicians tax.

If the politicians destroy private business, where will they get taxes? Where will people get jobs?

Can we all get jobs with the government? No.

If politicians can't get taxes, then what happens? Government is bankrupt.

Will business and employment increase under a town bully policy?

It is our businesses, our jobs and our taxes that are at stake.

Private business cannot compete with tax-exempt government business. Try it if you think it can.

What is the answer? Keep government out of business and confine it to the function of governing a free people, for which it was established.

What has government in business done for other nations of the world? Bankrupted them in most cases and made tax slaves out of the people.

HOUSING PLAN AS A BUSINESS REVIVER

Reports from the business front of late have not been exciting, inasmuch as industry at large has neither risen nor fallen, but has held languidly to the same level for many weeks. However, the outlook for fall and winter is, according to some experts, improving. Hope of seasonal upturn after Labor Day has offered some encouragement to the stock market, in spite of the fact that no evidence pointing to a major expansion in industrial operations has been forthcoming.

Inside Administration circles, great faith is felt in the new federal housing administration as a business reviver. The law authorizing this body was passed by the last Congress, at the request of the President, and a short time ago the machinery for putting its provisions into action was completed. It works this way: Banks and savings and loan associations apply to the Housing Administration for a contract which insures their building loans up to 20 per cent. Then the bank can lend from $100 to $2,000 to local property owners, without collateral. Amount of the loan is limited to one-fifth of the borrower's income, and the money can be repaid on a three-year installment basis. Maximum interest rate is 5 per cent. If the borrower defaults, the government will repay the bank 20 cents on each dollar lost.

Early reports indicate that applications for loans are flowing into banks all over the country at an amazing rate—some banks have been forced to establish separate departments for handling them. It is forecast that $1,000,000,000 may be released for property modernization under this scheme—that much money, going into supplies and materials and employment, would give a powerful upward impetus to every industry.

"OLD DEAL STILL IN VOGUE"—Father Coughlin Father Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest, and pastor of the Church of the Little Flower, Royal Oak, Michigan, contemplating another series of broadcasts, has disclosed what he terms "a brief but honest opinion on the basic questions to be discussed."

Father Coughlin says: "First: While I believe in regulating both industry and agriculture, nevertheless, I am opposed to their regimentation as the sole means for restoring prosperity. Especially do I stand opposed to the policies of the Department of Agriculture by slaughtering pigs, burning wheat, plowing under cotton and laying waste God's bountiful gifts when so many of our fellowmen are hungry and naked. As I said last year, that was a Pagan Deal.

"Second: The break-down of our economic system is directly related to money. Up to date the Treasury Department has not seriously attempted to remedy our financial distress. Here the Old Deal is still in vogue. It still persists in burdening us with the non-productive debts, and continues to print more bonds for the good of the international bankers.

Who can say that Father Coughlin is not right? Our present economic plight is due to our money system, which is inadequate to carry on the business of the nation. Yet the New Dealers and rubber stamp sycophants are following the dictates of the "Drain Trust" rather than the mandate of the voters. Not one frontal attack has been made on the real cause of the depression—money.

The wise men of the administration know what the trouble is, so does Coughlin, and the fiery priest no doubt will have some very pointed remarks to make against the administration he once supported so loyally. His first broadcast will be Sunday, Oct. 28, at three o'clock.

AMERICANISM WILL WIN OUT

A newspaper interviewer recently asked Henry Ford if he had faith in the future of the United States. Mr. Ford replied with a definite affirmative—and said that the fundamental spirit of Americanism, which explored and developed this continent, undimmed by the gravest obstacles, would pull us through.

The history of our people fully justifies Mr. Ford in that belief. Times change, and business cycles rise and fall. Experiments come and go, and political parties wax and wane. But that American characteristic which is known as individualism remains. It has faced the severest tests, and has come out on top. The spirit of the founders of this nation, who wrote the Bill of Rights and fought and died for the cause of human freedom, has been passed down to their descendants, as it will be passed on to Americans unborn.

In these times of unrest, when the nation is beset with this and that alien theory, it is a happy thing to reflect upon our heritage. It gave us our greatness in the past—it will maintain our greatness in the future.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

Newspapers of the country recently carried the story of Richard Ulram, the Jersey City, New Jersey, barber who appealed to General Hugh S. Johnson for protection against "the persecution and prosecution" of New Jersey code authorities whose action caused him to close his barber shop because of inability to operate under state code prices in his neighborhood, in a poor section of the city.

He said, "I can open only when haircuts will be 30 cents and shaves 20 cents," and that he would either have to ignore the state code prices and be jailed or obey the 50-cent haircut and 25-cent shave minimums and go out of business. Ulram is a cripple and left without a livelihood. This happened in the United States—not in Russia or Germany.

A HARD ONE TO ANSWER

The editor of the Wilder, Idaho, Herald says: "The point that is worrying ye editor is why our government should want to enter into any more business ventures at the expense of the taxpayers.

"We believe that if our lawmakers would exert more effort in reducing taxes and less in meddling with legitimate business, we would all profit thereby."

DEPOSITS INSURED
BY
The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
WASHINGTON, D. C.
$5000 MAXIMUM INSURANCE FOR EACH DEPOSITOR $5000

The State Bank of Antioch has received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington the official signs which will hang at all receiving windows as visible evidence that the depositors of this institution are insured.

The State Bank of Antioch is one of more than 14,000 licensed banks in the country which are receiving these signs. Insured banks are able to offer protection to their depositors up to $5,000. Statistical studies have shown that this maximum fully protects more than 97 per cent of all the depositors in insured banks.

A statement by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation follows:

"The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90 per cent of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them.

"If, by any unforeseen circumstances, an insured bank should suspend, the Insurance Corporation would begin paying off the depositors just as soon as a receiver was appointed for the closed institution. The depositors would receive their money in a few days instead of waiting months or years as was the case in the former method of liquidation. This is not only a benefit to the depositors, but it saves the community from a terrific economic and social blow. When the depositors receive their insured accounts they assign their claims to the Insurance Corporation. Thereafter liquidation proceeds on a business-like basis with the maximum chance of the Corporation and other creditors being paid in full."

Little Shirley Temple, Never Spoiled, Has Simple Home Life

By Mabel Love

LITTLE SHIRLEY TEMPLE who has risen rapidly to fame as the leading child star of the motion pictures, lives even more simply than the average child. To the fact that she has never been spoiled, her mother attributes the lovable personality that has won for her such universal popularity in Hollywood.

Shirley's meals have always been carefully planned each day and whether her wise mother is aware of it or not, her evening meal is in keeping with the findings of a recent scientific investigation conducted by Dr. Donald A. Laird, Director of the Psychological Laboratory, Colgate University. Perhaps it is only a coincidence, but if so, Shirley's mother has scored one on the doctor.

In investigating the subject of child sleep, Dr. Laird found that children's sleep was improved some twelve per cent by substituting for their ordinary supper a light meal in which the main dish consisted of easily digested corn flakes and milk. Shirley's evening meal regularly includes this dish.

It is the easy digestibility that makes corn flakes an ideal supper food for children, and this same quality, together with their crispy flavor, makes them equally valuable as an ingredient in many types of cakes and cookies. Try the recipe below and see how delicious it is.

Corn Flake Date Cookies

1/2 pound dates (1 1/2 cups chopped)
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange peel

Remove the seeds from the dates and boil dates, sugar, water, orange

Carefully planned menus have helped to keep Shirley well and full of zest for work or play.

Juice and grated orange peel until soft paste is formed.

1 cup shortening 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar 1/2 cup water
2 cups flour 2 cups corn flakes

Cream the shortening, add the sugar and beat thoroughly. Add the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt, then the water and last the corn flakes. Roll the cookie dough thin (about 3/16" thick) and cut into rounds. Spread one round with the date mixture and put a second round on top, pressing the edges together. Bake on greased baking sheet in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Provides three dozen 2 1/2-inch cookies.

What Vocation Shall My Boy Choose?

By A. B. Clemens,

Director, Schools of Mechanical Engineering, International Correspondence Schools.

We live in a changing world. Opportunities for success in the future will differ from those in the past. A boy's wise choice of his life work may do much to determine success or failure. How shall he choose?

The Internal Combustion Expert

THE Burlington Zephyr and Union Pacific stream-line trains have provided dramatic demonstrations of the expanding field for internal combustion engines, and it is safe to say that no field promises wider or more rapid development than the use of internal combustion power units operating on oil, gas or gasoline.

Internal combustion engines operating on low cost liquid fuel, are furnishing power for battleships and electric power plants, tractors and four mills, locomotives and dredges. If the use of such power continues to expand during the next decade as rapidly as it has in the past, the field has been occupied only on its fringes.

It is, however, a field that requires technical training—training that must be acquired either at the engineering schools of the universities or by study while on the job. Both methods have their advantages. If the latter be chosen, a junior position in a power plant where internal combustion engines are used would be the first step for the young man anxious to become expert in the operation of the engines. For the young man interested chiefly in designing the engines, a first step would be a junior position in a drafting room. In either case study will be required to supplement experience.

The internal combustion engine is unquestionably man's greatest achievement in harnessing the maximum amount of power to be obtained from liquid or gaseous fuels. Without it we would have neither the airplane nor the automobile as we know them today. As its development progresses, no man can foresee the ultimate limits of its use.

Overcoming Discouragement

LACK of courage! How many worthy enterprises have failed of achievement because men have listened to this subtle influence! What a destructive influence it seeks to exert over the affairs of mankind; yet it is really nonexistent—a negative condition. Can there possibly be insufficient courage for him who refuses to give up his right to this ever available, unlimited spiritual gift of courage? During times of financial stress it is often necessary to draw deeply upon it, if one would prove invalid the mortal claims of luck that appear on every hand.

A lesson in courage was gained by observing a young vine that had been carelessly planted in a rocky area against a brick wall. It had very little earth around its roots, and because of overhanging eaves, was deprived of rainfall. Yet, in spite of this, it had established itself. At first, progress aboveground was very much retarded, but at length a single stalk had climbed about two feet up the wall, when it was pulled down and broken off by a little child. One who had been observing the vine's persistence felt quite regretful to see its growth apparently thwarted, but a further lesson was learned when, within a short time, there grew from the broken end two branches where only one had been before.

For this little vine the business of turning out stems and leaves had to be taken care of. Instead of withering in the dry and stony ground, the thrust long roots down below the stones in search of moisture. From these deep roots the plant was well sustained, even through hot, dry summers. So the apparently unfavorable environment proved unable to prevent sturdy growth.

Those who are endeavoring to establish a business enterprise during a financial depression might well take a lesson from the vine. In such seemingly arid times, when business does not flow readily to the young concern, much courageous persistence is needed to continue spreading its roots beyond the disappointingly dry territory; thus the courage born of faith in God's sustaining laws will inevitably lead to profitable contacts. Strong, consistent, upward growth proves that this radical stand for progress yields good results. The withstanding of adversities may bring the experience which aids one in grounding his business so firmly on the knowledge of the truth that drought or storm are powerless to harm it. Pride in merely making "a good showing" must give place to the greater wisdom of first establishing a sound basis, for the overhead should not be more than the flow of business can sustain at all times. Even if a first achievement seems to come to grief, progressive expansion cannot long be checked if the foundation is well laid.

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy has written (p. 199): "The devotion of thought to an honest achievement makes the achievement possible. Exceptions only confirm this rule, proving that failure is occasioned by a too feeble faith." Any business, to be truly successful, must be built on an ideal of honest and loving service to mankind, and not carried on for personal exaltation or selfish ambition. Once established, it is indeed the "Father's business," and under the protection of the divine law of progress.

The disciple James writes, "If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well." Since all legitimate business is based primarily on this ideal of service, this royal law should be the tap-root that stimulates growth. Christian Science teaches that such a service has within itself all the essentials for prosperous expansion.

Under divine law there is no unfair competition by which one business succeeds at the expense of another. The service that each one can offer is a God-given ability, and is as individual to each as is the perfume of the rose or color to the sunflower. Although growing side by side, one plant cannot deprive its neighbor of the characteristics that belong to it. Is it cause for discouragement that grains of wheat can never become majestic oak trees? They can, however, develop into acres of grain, and who can say that these are of less importance than a forest of oak?

God's divine law, which protected and prospered an honest enterprise in ancient times, is just as effectual today, and the commandment given to Joshua is still as imperative: "Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest."—The Christian Science Monitor.

CHOOSING FOODS WISELY

By ADELAIDE SPOHN, Ph. D.

Nutritionist of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund and Director of Nutrition Service, Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Food Sense Saves Food Dollars

We have reason to believe that proper nutrition is the most important single factor in the maintenance of good health. It behooves us therefore in this present situation when economy has become the watchword of the times, to apply the pruning shears with discrimination. To provide adequate nutrition, the diet of a family must furnish enough carbohydrates, fats and proteins to yield the standard energy needs of the various members of the family group. In interest of economy, we must make these the carriers of the other dietary essentials: first, sufficient proteins of good quality for growth and maintenance of body tissues; second, enough of the essential mineral elements; and third, enough of each of the necessary vitamins.

During the World War, when food saving and economy became necessary, Miss Lucy Gillett, of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, gave the following advice: Divide your money into fifths and spend one-fifth, more or less, for fruits and vegetables; one-fifth or more for milk and cheese; one-fifth or less for meat, fish and eggs; one-fifth or more for bread and cereals; one-fifth or less for fats and sugars and other groceries. This is still good advice. Many families on restricted incomes would live more economically, and at the same time eat more healthful food, if this plan were followed. If further retrenchment is necessary, this should not be effected by reducing the amount of milk in the diet. The expenditure for milk may well amount to one-third of the week's food budget, and somewhat more than one-fifth should be spent for fruits and vegetables. Cereals, the cheapest source of energy, if well chosen, may also supply some of the important minerals and vitamins and should not be reduced. The saving should take place rather in the other two food groups, namely, meat and fish, and fats and sugar.

The following guide for meal planning should prove helpful:

Every Day.

Milk, a pint for each adult and if possible a quart for each child.
Breads and cereals, such as corn meal, oatmeal, wheat cereals, rice.
Oranges or canned tomatoes especially for children.

Potatoes.

Another vegetable, fresh or canned.
Two or three times a week this vegetable should be a green one, such as spinach, cabbage, turnip tops, string beans.

Two to Four Times a Week.

A fruit, dried or fresh.
Dried beans or peas.
Eggs, especially for children.
Meat, fish or cheese.

No matter what scheme is followed in planning well balanced diets, milk is of paramount importance and should be given first consideration. It should never be omitted from the diet, no matter how limited the budget may be. The ideal allowance is a quart of milk for every child and for the pregnant and nursing mother. Every one should have at least a pint of milk each day.

Cereals and breads, of necessity, make up the bulk of a low-cost diet. Some whole grain cereals, such as oatmeal, whole wheat cereal and brown rice, should be included, since they are particularly rich in vitamin B, in phosphorus and iron.

Fruits and vegetables are the third essential group of foods. The citrus fruits head the list in importance and should be used generously when they are cheap. Fortunately when this is not the case, tomato juice, either canned or fresh, may take their place in the diet as a valuable source of Vitamin C. Only fruits and vegetables in season should be chosen. Apples may be bought at a low price during most of the year. Bananas are often cheap and when properly ripened, are an excellent food, even for children. The dried fruits, especially prunes, apricots, peaches and black figs should be used generously. They are cheap and an excellent source of iron. Potatoes should be used at least once a day or even more often in extremely low-cost diets. At least one other vegetable should be provided each day.

Fair-mindedness

The expression, "an open mind" refers to the state of mind when one can view a thing dispassionately and, even if he has convictions on one side of the question, can still feel that the other side may be right and he may be wrong. It might be referred to as a "just" or "fair" state of mind.

Library's Splendid Idea

A library in Leipzig, Germany, instituted the custom of an annual exchange with America and England of the 50 most beautiful books of the year, selected on the basis of typography, binding and general appearance.

Diameter of Stars

The Naval Observatory says that the diameter of Betelgeuse is generally given as between 200,000,000 and 800,000,000 miles. The diameter of Antares is about 400,000,000 miles.

Famous French Palace

The palace of Versailles is mostly the work of Louis XIV. It consists of a central block surrounding the three sides of a large court and of two immense wings, each inclosing two or more courts. The total length of the building with its dependencies is nearly one-half mile. It houses a picture gallery, upon which alone Louis XIV spent $5,000,000.

HOLD ON TO YOUTH

Your Eyes Reflect Your Health

By Marie H. Callahan, Editor
Modern Beauty Shop Magazine

If your vitality is low, if you have been keeping late hours, or working under too great a nervous tension, your eyes will probably be the first part of you to be noticeably affected. You are all familiar with the dark circles under your eyes that weariness brings on. And your physical condition is also largely responsible for a "lack lustre" quality in the eyes themselves. Or eyestrain may have this effect.

If you had to hold your arm in one position all day long you would naturally expect to feel discomfort in the muscles of that arm; yet a large proportion of people employed in indoor work are keeping their eyes in the same position—downward—all day long without doing anything to counteract the effect of the constant strain. True, the eyes do not at first give the sharp painful warning of overstrain that your arm thus abused would, but the strain is there just the same. To offset the effect of this constant downward looking, try deliberately exercising your eye muscles every day. In addition to this, look up whenever you can—when walking, traveling the street car to and from work, and so on.

After doing close work for any length of time, shut your eyes for a minute; then focus them on a distant object. Wash the eyes twice a day in an eye cup full of boric acid solution. At night, massage a little day cream around them.

Then there are definite eye diseases that detract from eye beauty. Sties are usually brought on by poor physical condition. Gentle massage with clean fingers and hot compresses of boric acid solution can be used as immediate treatment for this condition. But the most important thing in treating this eye trouble, as in many eye troubles, is to build up the general health, making sure that your diet is built around fresh milk, fruits, and vegetables and that you have plenty of sleep, and exercise in the fresh air.

Xerophthalmia is an eye disease caused by lack of Vitamin A. Lack of lime in the diet will also cause eye disturbances. The best source of both these elements is fresh milk.

We can't change the actual color of our eyes but we can do wonders toward beautifying them. Grooming of lashes and eyebrows is important. And recently the eye make-ups which are on the market have been greatly improved until now when artistically applied, eye shadowing may be suitably used even in the daytime.

Of course, just as the color of the sky will be reflected in the color of a lake or stream, so also can the colors of a woman's dress, hat or jewelry affect the seeming color of her eyes. Those with pale blue eyes should avoid strong, bright blue and wear dark, soft, misty blue. Orange will give strength to a faint blue. Gray-eyed people should shun browns, yellows, or warm reds, and wear instead soft blues, cool greens, and purplish reds.

Beautiful, expressive eyes can transform your entire appearance, so surely it is worthwhile to give them most careful attention.

Dragon's Sword Found

What is declared to be a dragon's sword of the Seventeenth century period, and probably a relic of the Covenanting days, was found at Stonehouse, Scotland, by two school boys. The sword was firmly incased in what appeared to be a leather scabbard, but as it so rotted it that it fell to pieces when the weapon was withdrawn. The blade is hooked, heavily rusted and measures 30 inches from hilt to tip.

Clothes Respond To Good Posture

The latest clothes models are designed to look their best on those who observe the posture rules: chest up, tummy in. Therefore it behooves the fair sex to keep a sharp eye on their posture habits.

The small girl who does not carry herself correctly and does not strive for a good erect carriage will find that she can add an inch to two inches to her height with a changed position of the body. And the girl with the thick waistline and diaphragm will be surprised and delighted when she compares her measurements in the ordinary posture and in the new one.

We may boil down posture rules to feet and your chest. See that the two controlling features: Watch your feet point straight ahead, or nearly so, that lightness of step may be effected with a buoyant spring on the soles. Hold up your chest. By doing so you automatically reform faulty posture habits. There will be no slump of the neck. Your abdomen will be pulled in. Your back will be fall in an easy line. And that's not all posture does for you. It makes your clothes look a thousand times better. No model, no matter how expensive, will look the part unless the body for which it was made carries a corresponding air.

Bright Scotch Plaids Are Sent To School

New things should be received with shouts of approbation by the hard-to-please young set that they were designed to please. The newest eye-filling plaids gayly guaranteed to splash color in every kindergarten or schoolroom in the country. Flippant, breezy Scotch plaids for little brother and small sister that are quite the best looking samples of Scotch ever imported. They are designed by thrifty souls so that as your cherubs start to grow the cunning kilted skirt or tailored trousers can be anchored on the lower row of buttons and a good two inches gained.

They are practical, sturdy clothes, besides having that dashing continental air. Small sweaters and matching kilts and infinitesimal trousers; costumes topped with cocky little black velvet glengarry bonnets with a spot of scarlet feather at the side and two long black streamers at the back.

Brother and sister costumes are smarter than ever before whether you want them for summer or winter—and the new plaids follow the same lines.

High colored linens in sea green, trimmed with exquisitely fine hand-work, stunning white linen, with sheer blouse tops for small rogues and even smaller sized sister—orange linen combined with white or colors—anything and everything you could possibly want or use can be yours for the wise shopping.

Clara Phillips' Mate Is Freed

Absolved in Philadelphia as a suspect in Brooklyn's $427,000 armored car holdup, Armour L. Phillips' chief concern before he was freed was that he might be jailed and miss a reunion with his wife, Clara Phillips, hammer murderess, who is to be paroled next year. Phillips is shown here in the Philadelphia courtroom.

Strike Leader Seized by Mob

Climaxing weeks of warfare in the Ohio onion fields near McGuffey, a mob of 200 men abducted Okay Odell, militant strike leader, above, beat him and ejected him from the district. Odell, wounded, was reported to have returned to the trouble center as authorities moved to halt hostilities.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Football

The football season is worry time for most parents. Perhaps most of our fears are groundless, particularly in the case of the senior high school boy. But for the younger boy in the grades and junior high school, football becomes a hazard.

Most leaders in athletics and physical education believe that the boy should not play the real game until he is in the senior school. And then only when he is in the best condition as shown by a physician's examination. Every candidate for any school athletic team should be thoroughly examined before being allowed to join the squad.

As a part of the examination some schools are demanding a tuberculosis test and an X-ray of the chest. This practice will become general in time for all students. To the parent of a player, the football season is the ideal time to put the health rules into practice. At this time, the boy will do anything under the guise of training.

The coach and the trainer have a real educational opportunity. Let football be the vehicle for valuable lessons in nutrition, the correct diet, the value of milk, sleep, bathing, and the like. The boy will feel the good effects, so utilize his interest in an effort to have him carry over the health practices when the season is ended.

Dr. Ireland will discuss food essentials for the school child in his next series.

Linen, Treated Like Paper, Used on Walls of Alcove

If you have a little alcove in any room in your house perhaps you'd like to try decorating it in the same fashion as one in a most attractive new bedroom of a budget house on display in a Chicago store. The material used for the window draperies was a lovely printed linen—a floral design on a pure white ground. This same fabric was then treated as if it were wall paper and was applied to the walls of the alcove. The effect was utterly charming. And the room achieved a feeling of unity because of this clever little trick.

It is one that can be carried out in almost any room in the house.

EXTREMELY LOW OPERATING COST

See the "Companion" Electric Range

A companion to the G-E "Liftop" refrigerator is the new G-E electric range—one of the simplest, most compact ranges ever built. See it on display at your Public Service Store. You'll be delighted with the many features of this range, which is priced at only $76.00. When bought in combination with the "Liftop" a special, reduced price applies. Ask about this offer.

For only ONE NICKEL

Five cents—the cost of a package of gum—will operate a washing machine, a vacuum cleaner, a percolator, an electric iron, a toaster, a waffle iron—all at one time—for one solid hour at the new 2c per kilowatt-hour portion of the electric rate, in effect after 17 kilowatt-hours per room have been used in the month. Other useful electrical devices also cost but a few pennies to operate. Take advantage of the new low rates—enjoy what comfort, what convenience the use of labor-saving appliances will bring to your home.

To cover interest and other costs, a somewhat higher price is charged for appliances sold on deferred payments.

● The General Electric "Liftop" is a revolutionary, new-type electric refrigerator. Modestly priced, and designed to operate at a surprisingly low cost, the "Liftop" brings electric refrigeration within the reach of every home.

The "Liftop" is compact, but with a big, roomy interior. It is powered with the famed G-E "sealed in steel" mechanism, has the same refrigerating principle as the "Monitor Top" models. The "Liftop" is all steel, with one-piece, stainless porcelain interior. Glistening white Glyptal-baked enamel exterior. Has sliding food rack and food basket. Two ice or dessert freezing trays. Freezes 29 cubes—2 pounds of ice—at one time.

See this new refrigerator at your nearest Public Service Store today. A small down payment, the balance monthly the "Little by Little" way puts the "Liftop" in your home.

COACH ANNOUNCES TEAM MEMBERS FOR INTRA-MURAL GAMES

Fantastic Names Worn by the Athletic Crews

Fantastic monikers will designate the eight athletic teams scheduled to participate in a series of intra-mural games at the Antioch High school, according to Coach Al Sutter who early this week posted the names and personnel of the various teams on the school bulletin.

The first events will include a series of games in speedball and playground or soft ball, involving four teams made up from a roster of fifty players for each sport.

The speedball teams take their names from the other waves—"Hoosier Hotshots," "Sisters of the Skillet," "Snoring Snoozers," and "Cumberland Ridgerunners," while the soft ball enthusiasts have been designated as the pests of creation—Cooties, Fleas, Jiggers, and Ticks.

Here is a list of the young and hopeful athletes, and believe it, mister, it's an imposing array of talent in any man's league:

McMillen Pins foe In Final Outdoor Show At Round Lake

Jim McMillen, heavyweight wrestling star from Antioch, headlining the final outdoor grappling card at Roshan's Round Lake arena Friday night, ended the outdoor season with a 35 minute victory over Pete Schuch, star of "Strangler" Lewis' training camp. Jim's tackles and body slams finished Schuch off in short order during the final minutes of the fray.

Lou Plummer and Jack Smith went 30 minutes to a draw.

Dick Raines pinned Jack Zaravich in 10 minutes.

Hans Bauer and Ole Olson wrestled 20 minutes to a draw in the opening bout.

For the Formal Affair

If the hour is five, and the affair formal, the metal-trimmed afternoon frock is in order. The one shown here is of cream and green crepe. The lengthy bodice is embellished with clusters of metal flowers, and the skirt adopts the glittering mode in silver.

How to Eat for Health and Beauty

Patricia Ellis, 16-year-old screen beauty, typifies the natural charm of healthy youth.

THE sub del's complexion problem is hardly a problem at all, for if she follows a healthful diet she can well ignore cosmetics and skin creams. Even such special skin troubles as pimples which sometimes crop up to worry 16-year-olds can usually be controlled by a diet abundant in fresh milk, cheese, buttermilk, leafy vegetables, oranges and grapefruit; and low in rich pastries, candy and fried foods.

What Vocation Shall My Boy Choose?

By B. B. Mahon,
Principal, School of Air Conditioning, International Correspondence Schools.

We live in a changing world. Opportunities for success in the future will differ from those in the past. A boy's wise choice of his life work may do much to determine success or failure. How shall he choose?

The Field of Air Conditioning

AIR CONDITIONING offers a widening field for the young man soon to embark upon his career. Conditioned air is making rapid headway in the home. It is increasingly important in theatres, office buildings, hotels and on the railroads. It is becoming essential to efficient operation in many factories.

A new and growing industry offers obvious advantages. As the industry grows the young man who equips himself to take advantage of its opportunities grows with it. In air conditioning there is today an increasing demand for those who possess the ability to specify and install the proper equipment for the particular job.

The demand is an exacting one. The specifications differ with every type of structure and with every purpose for which the conditioned air is required. Practical experience and technical knowledge are both needed by those who would qualify as experts in the new industry.

Air conditioning is closely allied with the heating and ventilating field. Many of those who are successful today have obtained valuable practical experience while serving their apprenticeship with a heating and ventilating contractor; acquiring their technical knowledge by study in spare time. Others have first acquired the technical knowledge at college, and then have turned to the practical application of it.

Both methods are good. The choice usually depends on family or other circumstances.
